DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The meaning of “in the presence of catalytic acid” is unclear, as it has two possible readings:

A. It means “in the presence of an acid which is catalytic”. That is “catalytic” limits the type of acid, but not the amount.

B. It means “in the presence of a catalytic amount of acid”. That is “catalytic” limits the amount, but not the type of acid.

C. It might limit both the amount and type of acid.

Thus, it is unclear whether this phrasing limits the type of acid (A), the amount of acid (B), or both (C).

Claims 1-3, 5-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The scope of A a formate derivate" cannot possibly be deemed enabled. This would cover for example formaldehyde and methanol, both derivatives formed by the reduction of formic acid. It would also cover carbon dioxide, etc.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The use of the term "or a derivative thereof" in claim 1 and 9 renders the claims indefinite. There is no way of knowing what does or does not constitute a derivative. Further, the specification describes no steps which would convert the intermediate into a derivative, nor are such steps provided for in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4-8 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Vince, WO99/19327, 5618889 or Evans.

If the claims are interpreted according to interpretation A, then these references, which use the catalytic acid HCl, anticipate.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vince, WO99/19327, 5618889 or Evans as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of 5917041 or Daluge.

The secondary references show the second step, conversion of the intermediate to the final product abacavir.

Specification

The abstract states that there is a process, but does not set forth what the process actually consists of.
